- Steven — General Service
- Maria — Hospitals & Institutions (H&I)
- Rosa — Spanish Central Office

Comments / Representative Sharing
A member shared about the importance of service, sponsorship, and communication within the fellowship. The sharing emphasized that service brings opportunities to meet new people, develop responsibility, and strengthen connections with others in recovery. The member reflected on the strength of the AA fellowship and how members help one another stay sober, one day at a time.

Chairperson's Report — Joshua P.
Joshua reported on the quarterly meetings of SCIF committee chairs. It was decided that SCIF liaisons would reach out to other AA service entities to strengthen communication and connections throughout the fellowship.

Holiday Alkathons: The two new venues for this year's Alkathons have resulted in increased expenses. Groups were encouraged to consider passing an additional donation basket or contributing a portion of their Seventh Tradition collections toward Alkathon expenses. Individual contributions can also be made directly to the Alkathon through the QR code on page 10 of the newsletter.

SCIF Inventory: Three questions are being considered for the upcoming inventory, focusing on the roles of facilitator and note-taker. Exact distinction still to be clarified.

Alkathon Lottery: The lottery for holiday meeting assignments was held during the General Meeting. Intergroup Representatives were required to participate in the drawing to secure a time slot for their groups.Food Donations: A food shortage occurred during last year's Alkathon. Food Czar volunteers will be monitoring food availability this year to help prevent shortages.

Vice Chair's Report — Scott M.
No report recorded.

Secretary's Report — Shannon T.
Members were asked if there were any corrections to the previous meeting's minutes. Hearing none, a motion was made and seconded to accept the minutes as presented. The motion passed without opposition.

Treasurer's Report — Mike H.

Mike directed representatives to page 10 of the SCIF newsletter for additional financial information. He reported a $1,156 decrease and expressed concern about the steep decline in contributions from AA groups, emphasizing that SCIF is a nonprofit organization. Additional financial information included a $4,000 decrease in revenue, an $11,000 decrease in expenses, and an $8,000 increase in net assets.

SCIF has hired a bookkeeper and is interviewing CPAs. The bookkeeper is a paid position.

Alkathon Rental Expenses: The rental costs for the three holiday Alkathon venues are:Thanksgiving: $1,500, Christmas (Sally Tomatoes): $2,000, New Year's (Bethlehem Lutheran): $250. Due to these increased rental expenses, groups were encouraged to consider passing an additional donation basket specifically to help cover Alkathon costs. Individuals can also contribute directly to the Alkathon through the Venmo QR code on page 10 of the SCIF newsletter. When prompted to verify the phone number, use the last four digits 2553.

Registrar's Report — Angel P.

The Meeting Hall is looking for a secretary to lead a midweek, midday speaker tape meeting.

Inventory

Questions to be asked in the inventory are:

1. Is Intergroup attracting alcoholics from different backgrounds? Are we seeing a good cross section of our community, including those with disability issues?

2. Are all members given an opportunity to speak at Intergroup and to participate in Intergroup activities?

3. What more can Intergroup do to carry the message?

Bring these questions back to your group and they will be discussed at our next general meeting.

Get into Service

PI/CPC

PSST PSST PSST PSST PSST.....

This is how I was introduced to the Public Information / Cooperation with the Professional Community committee during a SOCYPAA (Sonoma County Young People in Alcoholics Anonymous) committee meeting. With a background in marketing my ears were piqued when I heard the acronym defined. I looked at it as a "someday service opportunity" as I was still getting my feet wet in my first service positions.

Being volun-told that I would be a great Unity Day Chair really brought it all together. I decided since the mission of Unity Day is to engage all the service committees of AA, being new in the fellowship, it would be important for me to go around and introduce myself to each committee.

What I discovered when I attended my first PI/CPC meeting was a group of people with a strong program and sincere dedication to service - within and outside the fellowship - I knew immediately they had something I wanted, kind wisdom to learn from.

My Higher Power decided that someday would come sooner than anticipated - I continued to attend since my first introduction back in April and I have since joined PI/CPC as the H&I (Hospitals & Institutions) committee liaison. We are so blessed to have such an active and rich recovery community in Sonoma County. Just last year I was only beginning to discover that fact despite having lived here for over 30 years.

Being a part of this committee means that I can help carry the fact that there is a solution to the sober curious - plant that seed of hope before they end up hopeless as so many of us do. Like H&I there are many opportunities for service within this committee - from speaking at DUI classes and schools to joining as a committee liaison, chair, or coordinator.

Elections are coming up starting next month and running through the end of the year. If you've ever been curious about what that PSST PSST PSST committee does - now is the time to come learn more.

Join us for our committee meeting at 7:30PM on the 2nd Wednesday of the month at the SCIF Meeting Hall/AA Bookstore 750 Mendocino Ave. Santa Rosa, CA. (Also on Zoom.)

Your service "someday" could mean someone's sober "someday" comes sooner too.

lessons from a leaf

as i was on my walk today
i saw a fallen leaf
it seemed to have a lot to say so i'll try to keep it brief

don't be afraid to accept a change
don't be afraid to fall
others will, don't think it strange it happens to us all

feel the wind, go with the flow remain flexible and strong know when it's time to just let go when hanging on feels wrong

with other leaves, don't compare your colors or your size
in the end, no one will care
we're perfect in His eyes

every season has bits of all beauty, joy and grief
spring & summer, winter, fall
have lessons from a leaf

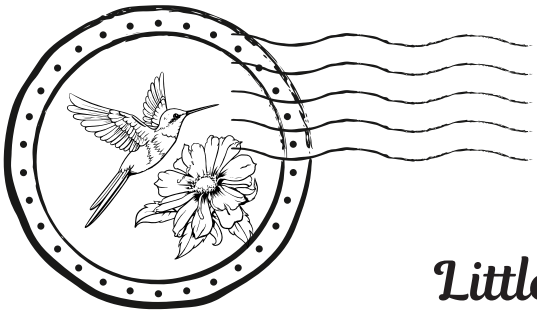
The Funnies

Two parents are late dropping their kids off in the childcare area of a massive AA speaker meeting.

First parent: "i haven't seen you here before., have i? If it's your first time here, most of the kids are regulars. And every week they have their own pretend AA meetings. They elect a chairperson, a secretary, they ask questions after the speaker shares, they even have a juice maker. Its amazing how organized they are and its so cute too."

Second parent: "it looks to me like they're just running around in circles."

First parent: "Oh, tonight is a tag meeting"



Little Phone Boundaries

Sometimes little boundaries do not feel so little. 'Don't call us, we'll call you,' is a boundary many of us set at times. This little phone boundary is often unspoken, temporary and simply goes up when we are short of time, or perhaps when we do not wish to converse with someone we find particularly troublesome. There are times when some of us simply do not wish to speak with anyone at all. Understanding and respecting this little phone boundary is something that at times is difficult for this AAer. My self-centeredness is such that I often do not even recognize a boundary exists or when a fence does go up, I do not see my part in its erection.

An unreturned call or text can be painful. When this happens, sometimes I rebel against the sting of this snub. The boundary does not seem fair, I mean no harm, so what's going on? Out comes the middle finger of blame. In other words, I tend to take it personally when a call or text goes unreturned. Often it seems to suggest that something is wrong with me, that I am somehow on the list. The no reply list.

Now that I am sober, I am learning about introspection however, and how encountering a phone boundary can be viewed as another life lesson. People get busy sometimes and forget to return calls or texts. Don't I do this sometimes? Well, other people do as well. Also if I did cause a rift, understanding when my past laid the groundwork for it all serves to inspire me to practice my program more diligently and strengthens my desire never to repeat this by-gone misconduct. Maybe I need to make amends.

I can also look at my present behavior. Am I currently the self-centered attention seeker? Did I stir another's pot with my dirty spoon of hypercritical self righteousness? When conversing with another do I brag or do all the talking? When I simply look at myself this way, those little phone boundaries are a big help to me along the path, inspiring me to right action, change and personal growth.

What about phone boundaries that I have no real part in creating? Here is my opportunity to accept and understand another. One of my friends began ignoring my calls and texts. I wondered what I did. Hadn't I freely given them rides to meetings and been friendly?

People have their reasons and many times these are inexplicable. I was fortunate and the friend described above reappeared in my life. I asked what happened and they told me they developed a resentment against all in AA and deleted everyone from their phone for a while. This, I understood. I am human too.

Thank you,

11th Step Promises

Step Eleven suggests prayer and meditation. It works, if we have the proper attitude and work at it.
Under these conditions we can employ our mental faculties with assurance, for after all God gave us brains to use.
Our thought-life will be placed on a much higher plane when our thinking is cleared of wrong motives. In thinking about our day we may face indecision. We may not be able to determine which course to take. Here we ask God for inspiration, an intuitive thought or a decision. We relax and take it easy. We don't struggle. We are often surprised how the right answers come after we have tried this for a while. What used to be the hunch or the occasional inspiration gradually becomes a working part of the mind. Nevertheless, we find that our thinking will, as time passes, be more and more on the plane of inspiration. We come to rely upon it.
We are then in much less danger of excitement, fear, anger, worry, self-pity, or foolish decisions.
We become much more efficient.
We do not tire so easily, for we are not burning up energy foolishly as we did when we were trying to arrange life to suit ourselves.
It works-it really does

@SonomaCounty-IntergroupFellows

Hello folks,

I've had the pleasure and honor to serve as SCIF Treasurer for almost two years. My second term will expire in January, 2027 and so I will be term-limited out of this role.

I am writing to ask folks to consider running for this office at the January 2027 election. The ideal candidate would have a strong accounting/business background, a strong commitment to service in AA, and ample free time. The job is pretty time-consuming with numerous duties and responsibilities in addition to a minimum of three meetings per month.

Thanks so much.

Mike H.
